

CANDIDATES GEIN RAGE EVER HOUR

Incoming Delegates Confused at Growing List of Those Who Are Willing to Lead Bourbons From Wilderness

Six Want Vice-President Job and Over 25 Believe They Can Wear McAdoo's Shoes; Roper Says McAdoo Is Out

By AD. SCHUSTER.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The greatest business before the Democratic convention today, and one that is being participated in with unusual zest, anxiety and acumen, is that of setting the incoming delegates right. It is surprising how many of the leading party members here are anxious, for instance, to hear the news to the newcomers that McAdoo is out of the race, that Cox is the man of the hour, that Palmer is sure to win, and that Edward is gaining every time his manager thinks over the situation.

These incoming delegates have every excuse for being bewildered. Started off from their home towns with the roasting of hands and the bay tuzahs of the citizenry, they were told, in many cases, not to return without the nomination of McAdoo. Now they find McAdoo has retired and that an affable crowd of most courteous men are claiming five or six candidates as the logical successor. They have also found that while the train was hitting off the routes toward San Francisco Democrats were posting their names as candidates for the presidency or vice-presidency at the rate of one an hour, that the kettle has a lot of new ingredients, and that it is necessary for them to get their bearings.

SIX NOW IN FIELD FOR VICE-PRESIDENCY

Six out-and-out candidates for the vice-presidency most of them the possessors of pledged votes, and representing a situation unique in the party annals, is the race of today. Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana; General Taylor, E. J. F. of Virginia; J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois; Governor Francis of Missouri; and E. L. Doherty of California are the Doherty arrived yesterday and declared at once that he was not an aggressive candidate for the place. He intimated, however, that he might be a factor in the race. He came along with the latter. In addition to the six, there are a number of others who are possibilities, although they are not entered as favored candidates. These include Alexander of Iowa; Senator Owens, Governor Edwards, Homer S. Cummings and most any prominent Democrat one could name.

OREGON HAS MAN FOR DAY

Oregon has developed a surprise for the day with the announcement that the name of Senator George E. Chamberlain will be placed in nomination by Will E. Purdy of Clatsop county, Oregon. This is taken to mean that Oregon has at last realized that McAdoo is out of the race and that its announced intention of totting all the names in the state is being changed by the plumping of a complimentary vote for Chamberlain. Chamberlain becomes 25 in the list of those who will be nominated. Chamberlain's nomination is a determination not to run, and one held most significant, is he will not be here. Friends have sent him a letter of support, telling him to be as candid as possible. Roper wired back sharply and to the point that McAdoo was out and that the delegates should learn to believe it.

McADOO IS REALLY OUT; GLASS WILL SAY SO

A story to which considerable credence is given is that if any friend of McAdoo's puts the former treasurer's name in nomination, the name of Carter H. Glass will arise in his five feet of dignity and refuse the nomination in McAdoo's name.

One of those who will not change his plans is Thomas D. Love of Texas, who declares in one breath that McAdoo is sincere in getting out and, in the next, that he will be nominated anyway.

NEW YORK READY TO SWING TO COX

If the declaration of Lewis Nixon, of New York, one of the possibilities for the vice-presidency, has any weight, the New York vote will switch to Cox after the early ballots are taken. This would give the Ohio man a goodly vote. The Cox camp claims Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee and Kentucky, and hold that their strongest argument is that they can carry Ohio in the election. In the Cox headquarters a lot of talk is being heard today regarding Meredith for vice-president, which is taken to mean that the Iowa vote, after giving the secretary of agriculture a unanimous and complimentary ballot or two, may be regarded as a prospective Cox one. If true this is one more big strategic gain made by the Cox faction which would appear to be securing big issues, as the Gerard campaign is, "antimilitarism," an issue, by the way, which is emphasizing the candidate's record for having spoken "peace" to the Kaiser. Prohibition and league of nations are

McAdoo Willing If Given Honor Says His Friend

By DAVID M. CHURCH, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Senator Gibbon of New York, "close friend" of William G. McAdoo, appeared on the scene here today and put the soft pedal on the efforts of enthusiasts who are continuing to insist that the son-in-law may be able to leave for San Francisco. Gibbon refused to affirm or deny that he came to San Francisco as a personal agent of McAdoo. He admitted, however, that he had been with McAdoo before leaving for San Francisco. It was learned on excellent authority that Gibbon is letting it be known that while McAdoo is not seeking the nomination, he would not reject it if the convention selected him as the nominee.

COPIES OF HELL LETTER CIRCULATED

Soon after Gibbon's arrival a number of printed copies of McAdoo's letter to Miller Bell of Melville, Ga., asking that his name be withdrawn from the Georgia primary, were being circulated. In this letter McAdoo declared, "In a democracy like ours the obligations of good citizenship are supreme and should therefore regard it as the imperative duty of any man to accept the nomination if it should come to him unsolicited." This letter is understood to state conspicuously that Gibbon is being urged to stand above all things that there be no indications of his soliciting the nomination for president.

THOMAS E. LOVE, NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN FROM TEXAS, HAS BEEN VERY DETERMINED IN HIS STATEMENTS THAT THE CONVENTION SHOULD NOMINATE McADOO, WAS ONE OF THE FIRST MEN WHOM GIBBON SOUGHT A CONFERENCE WITH. IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT GIBBON'S MISSION IS TO STILL ALL PRE-CONVENTION BOOMING AND TO URGE THAT THE DELEGATES MAKE THEIR CHOICE WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT THE CONVENTION FLOOR, BEFORE WHICH THE McADOO CAMPAIGN IS BEING CONDUCTED, IS THE MILESTONE IN THE MILESTAGE OF LEADERSHIP.

DENIES STORIES OF ILL HEALTH OF McADOO

McAdoo cannot discuss his health and his statements relative to the Democratic nomination, Gibbon said. "I don't care to discuss at this time whether or not I am a representative of McAdoo. I may be able to make a statement at some later date."

"I can say this, however, and I want to say it emphatically, that I am in a position to deny authoritatively the reports that have been circulated that Mr. McAdoo is an ill man and that he is suffering from tuberculosis or the throat or any other ailment. That is the worst put out by enemies of McAdoo. I walked ten miles with Mr. McAdoo last Sunday just before I left New York for San Francisco and he did that ten miles in like shape. He is a perfectly healthy man."

Retired Lumberman Dies at Berkeley

BERKELEY, June 25.—William and capitalist and proprietor of extensive lumbering interests in Mendocino county, died here last night after an illness of two weeks at his family home, 1401 Walnut street. He was 66 years of age. Besides his wife, Lulu, he is survived by a daughter, Darlene. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Sympathy With Aims of Irish, Protection for Labor, Soldier Aid Proposed for Platform

By MERLE E. FEW, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

(Copyright, 1920, by International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—President Wilson's political representatives in this pre-convention today stoutly demanding that the now famous Virginia platform foreign relations plank stand as the Democratic party's statement of the peace and league of nations issue, the only changes being for the purpose of clarification so that it may be better understood by the man in the street.

The International News Service is able today to divulge the tentative Irish, labor, compensation for teachers, soldiers and sailors' bonus and compensation for postal employees platform planks, as approved by the committee. If the Wilson forces prevail in the committee on resolutions, the following planks will be adopted:

IRISH ADMS EXPRESSED

Ireland.—We express our profound sympathy for the rights and aspirations of small nations and of races, subject to alien domination. The striving of these for self government appeals to the sense of justice of the world. The centuries-old struggle of Ireland for self government is today one of the unhappy problems disturbing mankind. To her the league of nations offers, for the first time in history, an international tribunal, before which she may obtain an impartial hearing.

"We pledge that, when American representatives to the league of nations are appointed, they shall be instructed to bring the affairs of Ireland before that great tribunal for adjudication."

ASPECTS OF LABOR PROBLEM REVIEWED

Labor.—The question of industrial peace is our greatest domestic problem. It is the greatest problem of the world.

"Labor constitutes the largest element of our population. On its welfare depends the prosperity of all. High wages and good living conditions constitute the bulwark of civilization. We recognize that the solution of these questions is dependent more upon economic principles than upon sympathetic legislation."

"Statutes are necessarily limited in their efficacy. The elimination or regulation of child labor; the protection of sailors on the high seas; the encouragement of industrial insurance in all interstate employment, and the suppression or regulation of monopolies that control the cost of living are, however, subjects that call for direct federal action."

"The organization of labor should be encouraged. The development of these organizations, under responsible leadership, is a great element of industrial peace. They add to the dignity, independence and efficiency of labor. They protect labor against exploitation. They develop a wholesome system of collective bargaining."

"We believe that the government should create a federal tribunal for the purpose of arbitration, which

PALMER FOR NATION PACT SHES 'DRY'

With 73 of 76 Pennsylvania Votes Lined Up His Agents Claim Georgia; Candidate Gives Views On Platform

Party Leaders Favor Silence On "Dry" Issue; Coming of Bryan Is Expected to Start Things Going at Fast Clip

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The Democratic National Committee went into session this afternoon to rule on the several contests which have developed. Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Vance McCormick, former national chairman; Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan, and Chump Clark were among the leading arrivals of the day.

An unofficial poll of the Democratic national committee today shows that the Palmer delegates from Georgia will be seated by a practically unanimous vote. It was declared by Senator R. E. Ellis, Attorney-General Palmer's secretary.

The factions represented by Senator Hoke Smith and "Tom" Watson are contesting the right of the Palmer delegates to sit.

Senator James Reed will personally conduct his fight for a seat as delegate in the Democratic National Convention from Kansas City congressional district, which he learned.

Up to opening the national committee meeting in which the Reed and Georgia contests were to be decided tentatively in making up the temporary roll of the convention, the Missouri senator had filed no formal notice of contest. He told his friends, however, that he intended to appear before the committee, and, if he lost his case, take it before the credentials committee, and, if necessary, to the floor of the convention.

ATTORNEY GENERAL PALMER AND BOOSTERS ARRIVE.

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, with seventy-six Pennsylvania delegates and 200 routing, singing boosters arrived at 10 o'clock.

Palmer, a progressive Democrat, Palmer came out strongly for the League of Nations, opposed the "wet and dry" issue, scored the reactionaries and radicals alike; said that the adoption of the League of Nations would mean the continuance of America's courageous leadership in the world, and termed a presidential campaign an "education in patriotism."

Vance McCormick admitted that the Pennsylvania delegation is not quite solid for Palmer.

But such three of the seventy-six delegates are for Palmer, he said, and we are going to stay here and put him across as we put across Wilson. We have to remain till the very end.

Ambassador Morris comes as a Palmer aide, and (Congressman Bruce Steiing is chairman of the State delegation. Warren Van Dyke, secretary of the Democratic State committee; John H. M. Bigelow, William Berry, Democratic treasurer; James G. Guffy and Senator Webster Gurnea are other prominent members.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO GIVE WOMEN HALF

The national committee was scheduled late today to draw up party legislation giving women equal representation in that body. The resolution will be presented to the convention for ratification and is expected to receive unanimous support.

Advance information on the Nebraska delegation due to reach here this afternoon was to the effect that William Jennings Bryan will be named the member of the resolutions committee from his State by a vote of 10 out of 16. R. E. Ellis, secretary to Senator Hitchcock, is in San Francisco leading the fight for the Wilson platform in his State.

John F. Kuntz, member of the Nebraska delegation on the platform committee, who arrived with the delegation today, said:

"The delegation will stick to Cox and his policy on all questions."

McAdoo's adherents were said early today to be sharpening their plans to withhold his name from the ballot throughout the early stages.

DRY QUESTION MAY BE IGNORED

On the prohibition enforcement question, heretofore the most prominent subject of discussion in convention circles there developed yesterday a sudden movement to ignore the question entirely in the platform.

The movement for platform silence on the enforcement measure is said to have been in part from consideration of this report as to the Bryan plans. Some at least of its advocates are said to desire now to head off a vote on a home dry program as a matter of expediency.

Newberry Appeal Bill Passes Court

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 25.—A bill of exceptions and assignment of error filed for Senator Truman H. Newberry, and sixteen others convicted last March on charges of corruption in the 1918 senatorial election, has been approved by Judge Clarence W. Sessions of federal court. The case will go to United States supreme court as soon as the printing is completed.

Frank C. Dalley, assistant attorney general, special prosecutor, said he would endeavor to bring the case on for hearing in the supreme court at the earliest possible time.

Senator Newberry was sentenced to two years imprisonment in Leavenworth and fined $10,000. All the convicted men have been at liberty under bond pending appeal.

SCHOOL ROW MEETING IS NOISY AFFAIR

Supporters of Wooten Jeer Two Women Who Attempt to Speak Word of Defense for Principal Biedenbach

Resolution in Favor of First Named Meets With Little Opposition; School Board to Be Referee in the Fight

BERKELEY, June 25.—An audience of more than 100 high school students and parents assembled last night in Berkeley high school auditorium for a mass meeting in behalf of J. B. Wooten, discharged commercial teacher, started a demonstration when Miss Fannie McLean, vice principal of the school, rose to defend the administration of Principal C. L. Biedenbach.

Miss McLean's address in which she declared that it was such a pity that the school should be so divided, she should be ashamed of themselves to criticize one of the best high schools in the country followed by an attack on Biedenbach at the meeting by W. R. Ellis, declared Biedenbach at the bottom of the Wooten trouble. It also followed a statement from Mrs. W. T. Cleveland, who opened the meeting and declared that it was such an unusual thing to see affection manifested toward any teacher that the demonstration of students in behalf of Wooten was something to be commended.

CHILDREN DISOBEDIENT SAYS MISS McLEAN

"I feel that I am called upon to speak," declared Miss McLean. "You are the mothers and fathers of children. You know practically nothing about school, disobedient, extravagant, spoiled, for the teachers to cope with. Where you have had one hundred, thousands of them to train."

Miss McLean was forced to stop while Chairman George R. Knowles rapped for order.

"This is the finest high school in the state," continued the principal. "Its success is due to this present principal who has struggled almost unarmingly with the obstacles to establish the present normal."

Hoots and jeers with laughs from a group of high school boys forced her to stop again.

"I have lived through so many school quarrels that I am sick of the city of Berkeley," said Miss McLean's parting shot as she took her seat.

The statements of the vice principal were challenged by Ellis. He asked that in the face of the criticism of Biedenbach by Dr. Roy J. Wooten, president of the board of education, how the two could be reconciled.

"Certainly, let them both stay," answered Miss McLean. "Berkeley is big enough for the two of them."

MRS. FRED FOSS DENIES BIEDENBACH

A dramatic defense of Miss McLean and Biedenbach was presented by Mrs. Fred Foss, wife of the county treasurer, former teacher in the schools, who held the vice principal by the hand as she opened her talk.

"It was the greatest privilege of my life to teach under Mr. Biedenbach," declared Mrs. Foss. As the audience gave signs of acquiescing her statement she turned to that given Miss McLean, the latter declared:

"I demand that I be listened to quietly and with respect. I am a taxpayer, too. I have a right to talk."

Appeals of Miss McLean and Mrs. Foss failed to sway the audience from its demand for vindication for Wooten. A resolution presented by Michael Mitchell demanding a hearing for Wooten was carried almost unanimously. Miss McLean and Mrs. Foss being the only dissenting voices.

Efforts of Chairman Knowles to keep principal Biedenbach's name from entering the meeting proved futile and the defense of Wooten was coupled with an attack on the high school head by many of the speakers. Charges made against him by Clyde Smith, head of the commercial department at the high school were answered by Wooten. Addresses in behalf of Wooten were made by Reverend Follett, president of the High School Association of students; "Ted" Culin and Edward Graft, former students; Mrs. Grace Foss, Mrs. J. C. Hardin and others.

The resolution adopted at the meeting will be presented to the board of education at its next meeting.

Communists Join To Press For Civil War, U. S. Hears

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Evidence of the formation of a United Communist Party consolidating the Communist Labor and Communist parties, with the purpose of fomenting a revolution against the existing government, was received today by the Department of Justice. Officials said arrangements to guard against the spread of its propaganda were being made.

Communist publications, in the hands of the department, declare that the program of the party is "the final struggle between the workers and the capitalists, between exploited and exploiters, will take the form of civil war and that it is the function of the United Communist party, systematically to familiarize the working class with the necessity of armed insurrection as the only means through which the capitalist system can be overthrown."

Wilson Bosses Scheming to Muzzle Bryan

By HUGH BAILEY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—William Jennings Bryan, arriving here today, faces one of the hardest fights of his career to wrest from the administration control of the Democratic national convention.

The convention, as at present organized, is solidly in charge of the friends of President Wilson.

Bryan is believed to be determined to break up this control, prevent the convention from flitting into the league and inject a number of new issues.

CARDS STUCK AGAINST NEBRASKAN

The convention situation today is that the temporary chairman will be Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national committee, whose name has been in the air for several months ago. Cummings has prepared a keynote speech applauding the record of the administration.

The permanent chairman is selected to go to Bainbridge College, secretary of state, who was appointed by President Wilson after he removed Robert Lansing. Colby is now on his way here from Washington, and if elected he is expected to make an extemporaneous speech which will amount to a statement from the President to the convention.

The chairmanship of the important committee which will frame the platform is scheduled to go to Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who is now in the ground with the League of Nations platform plank adopted by the Virginia state convention and approved by the President.

EVERY ENTRANCE SEEMS BARRED

Into this situation comes Bryan. Administration leaders are so confident he will be impotent they are inclined to laugh at any possibility of his changing the existing order. But the "commoner" is expected to get into speedy touch with leaders who are against the administration program and endeavor to organize an effective opposition.

It is understood that Bryan has some platform planks of his own, including one for government control of railroads and one for a national network of good roads.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—An order establishing a minimum wage of $16 a week for the thousands of women employed in California hotels, restaurants, and amusement houses, restaurants, cafeterias and other places where food or drink is sold, was made public by the state industrial welfare commission here today.

Effective July 31. Deductions for meals served to employees may be made, provided they do not exceed 25 cents for breakfast, 50 cents for lunch and 45 cents for dinner. No charge for a room in excess of $3 a week can be made to any woman employee.

NEW RAILWAY STRIKE IS SET FOR SATURDAY

Switchmen of East Vote to Go Out at Midnight; Turn Deaf Ears to Appeals That They Await Wage Awards

Heads of 15 Unions Assemble in Chicago; Lee Declares Crisis Gravest Since War; Men Quit Old Leadership

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE, LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Switchmen in all the eastern yards have voted to walk out at midnight tomorrow, union leaders were advised today.

At a secret session held at midnight yesterday switchmen employed in the Potomac and Baltimore yards decided almost unanimously to join the walkout. Similar action, it was learned, was taken at meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Jersey City and other railroad centers in the east.

Representatives of the unions and the department of labor, who have been working with the men urging them to wait until the railroad labor board's decision, report them deaf to appeals.

RAILMEN ARE WEARY OF PROMISES.

"We tried to show them that the President's message to the board will bring speedy action and an award was certain within a week," said one representative today. "But they will not be moved from their determination to strike. They declare they are weary of promises and want to see reports that the board is deadlocked. It must be admitted that they have waited patiently and for a long time. They have not the notion that the board is unable to agree on the switchmen's demands. We have no answer to their argument that the cost of living is rising while the board is deliberating. Shopmen and other railroad workers affiliated with the railway employees' department are being counseled by their leaders to 'sit tight awhile longer.'"

"We are urging the members of our international unions to wait for the labor board's decision," said John Scott, secretary of the Railway Employees' department. "We are confident of a favorable award and feel the President's appeal will move the board to speed up action."

"We may protest against the decision of the board making increases retroactive from May 1 instead of March 1, but we do not expect any trouble from the men in the international affiliated with the American Federation of Labor unless the board is very unsatisfactory."

"We do not think the board is held up by any serious differences and with a little more time a satisfactory agreement will be worked out. In our opinion."

"WILSON ALLOWED BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO PRESSURE"

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS, LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Officials representing all the recognized railway unions met here today in an effort to keep their men in line and put a stop to the various unauthorized strikes which have been sweeping the country for several weeks. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and spokesman for the union leaders, laid responsibility for the present situation at the door of President Wilson in a statement issued before the meeting opened.

"We charged that the President had permitted the railway administration 'to daily along' for nearly a year after the men presented their demands and that it took the President a long time to appoint the board after the Esch-Cummings bill authorized it had become law."

"One of the biggest dangers to the nation," Lee said, "is the one big union of men who are responsible for the sporadic strikes now going on. It is up to the powers to decide whether they want the one big union idea, which caused strife in the past, or whether they want the strong, sane organizations which have kept the men in a reasonable mood for many years."

"COMPLETE PARALYSIS" FEAR OF UNION HEAD

CHICAGO, June 25.—Heads of fifteen railwaymen's organizations, in conference today, declared the rail situation the most menacing they have been called upon to face. They were expressing doubt of their ability to prevent "complete paralysis of transportation" unless they are given co-operation by the Railway Labor Board, now considering wage demands.

"The men have reached the breaking point in patience," W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said. "Demands are increasing more and more. The men are more difficult to control than a year, but the dilly-dallying policy of the administration has them still pending. In the meantime the men are leaving the railroad work for other work. The men are being driven to join other organizations because of unauthorized strikes."

President Lee said no strike is contemplated by union officials. But he is becoming increasingly more difficult to hold our members from drastic action, however, he said. "They are becoming prey to red propaganda."

John R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, issued a statement in which he said "the wage decision would be made as soon as possible, but in justice to the roads, workers and the public, proper deliberation must be had."

FIGHT LOOMS ON BOURBON PLANKS

tribunal should have the right to conduct investigation of industrial disputes and publish findings and reports. While its judgment, unless under voluntary submission, should in no sense be compulsory or interfere with liberty of action, we believe that it would be a great moral force in preventing and settling industrial conflicts.

Compensation of Teachers—"The strength of this nation, its future, its hope, rest on the shoulders of its teachers. This sacred trust has been confided to the teaching forces of our country. That these people should be adequately compensated for this vast responsibility must be evident. That the nation has shamefully neglected these faithful servants is beyond dispute.

"We pledge all the power of government—shall our ticket be successful—and its entire moral force—to procuring adequate remuneration for every teacher in the land. "Our people are the soldiers and sailors of the republic, who went forth to preserve the rights of this nation and the liberties of mankind, every consideration.

"Those who suffered from wounds or sickness should have behind them every dollar of American property, as should those who shall hereafter become sick or unable to support themselves fully or partially.

"We believe that the vast majority of those who returned uninjured do not feel that the service rendered to mankind can be compensated by a cash bonus; that the honor and glory that forever at-aches to their achievements stands superior to price. We believe, however, that it is the duty of this nation, from its resources of land, to offer abundant opportunity to our soldiers and sailors. We believe that the civil service law should be amended so that offices of public employment that shall become vacant should, by a separate examination, be first offered to the soldiers and sailors of the nation.

"No instrument of civilization and progress has been greater than the postal service which, besides transmitting personal communication between cities, diffuses written and printed knowledge and information to all the people. In addition to being the greatest medium of business communication, its educational and moral influences are beyond computation.

"The men in this service perform this mighty task with loyalty to the public beyond praise.

"The compensation of these employees is utterly disproportionate to the work performed. Their neglect constitutes a stain upon the nation.

"We pledge our nominees for president and our senators and representatives to at once provide remuneration on a proper American scale of wages for these faithful servants. "The league of nations plank which the friends of the president here are today revising so as to make it simple and comprehensive, does not in any way depart from the president's oft-repeated plan, and coupled with it is a thoroughgoing endorsement of Woodrow Wilson. The league is characterized as the surest, if not the only, practicable means of maintaining the permanent peace of the world and terminating the misadventure of great military and naval establishments. "It is declared that it was for this that America broke away from traditional isolation and spent her blood and treasure to crush a colossal scheme of conquest.

"Upon this ground will come the great test of Democratic party solidarity. Senators Walsh (Massachusetts) and Reed and William J. Bryan will lead a grim battle against the administration measure. Senators Glass and Cummings, with Secretary Coby and Attorney General Palmer, will represent the president and confidence is expressed by their friends that they can swing the measure through.

In effect the foreign relations feature of the platform makes the great issue before this convention clear-cut and predominant—Woodrow Wilson. Within the resolutions committee room will be enacted, before next Wednesday, events which may seal the fate of the two-year peace plan controversy. The second test of party solidarity will be precipitated by the prohibition issue. There is unmistakably a strong force here against any plank whatsoever on the liquor question. Liquor interests have their lobbyists planted in every hotel.

BRYAN AND OTHERS TO FIGHT MOISTNESS

Bryan and several other strong men will give battle against any attempt to maintain the party platform.

The Tammany delegation is credited with having a light wine and beer plank to propose. Boss Murphy is the usual sphinx on all matters. There is a story about that Taggart of Indiana is coming in dry as a bone.

One tentative plank on the liquor question, said to be favored by certain administration followers and others, advocates the resumption of the manufacture of light wines and beers. It approves the abolition of saloons, taking the position that they are a social and economic menace. But it holds that the Volstead act in its present form is something of an injustice to poor men. It is pointed out that when prohibition became operative the law permitted all men to purchase as much liquor as their means permitted, provided it was kept in the home and consumed there.

LOCAL LEADERS PREDICT GREAT G. O. P. VICTORY

Enthusiastic prediction of a big Republican victory and plans for raising the $50,000 campaign quota for Alameda county were the principal features of the meeting of the ways and means committee of the Alameda county Republican party yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Oakland. This committee was appointed by the Republican national and state committees and its chief function is the raising of Alameda county's quota of the fund allotted to California for the national campaign.

Joseph R. Knowland presided and those speaking were Representative Elston, Roscoe Jones, C. C. Chapin, Judge L. H. Weinmann, H. C. Capwell, Senator Arthur H. Bredt, C. E. Snook, Mr. Tuckett, E. K. Strobridge, Clinton Dodge, District Attorney Ezra Decoto and Harrison S. Robinson.

VICTORY SEEN AHEAD

Joseph R. Knowland, in making a detailed report of the convention proceedings, predicted that when the Democrats have outlined the issues of the campaign, the Republican party will be found in the front ranks of the fight. He said that the Republican party is fighting for its own high principles and for a Republican victory.

"Johnson's great influence at the convention was felt strongly and he dictated to a large extent the policy of the league of nations plank," declared Knowland. "By coming out in a strong fight for the Republican party now, Johnson will become the most prominent figure in the United States Senate."

PRIMARIES CRITICIZED

"Senator Johnson certainly has just cause for complaint because many of the delegates who had been instructed to vote for him were not loyal. This was not the fault of the convention. They deserted him at the critical moment when he had reached the peak of 143 votes. North Carolina, which Johnson carried in 1916, gave him but one vote. Montana and Michigan, it is true, stuck to the last, but Nebraska and Oregon began to waver just when loyalty was needed."

"This was due, I believe, to the peculiar primary law in some states. For instance, delegates elected by the people to vote for Johnson might have been really named before hand by Wood or Lowden."

ELSTON PRAISES HARDING

In a striking bid for unity in the Republican party, and with praise for Senator Harding as a man of "mellow statesmanship and constructive policy," Representative Elston declared that the old issues have changed and that the party should have the support of every loyal member of his party.

"Conditions are different today," declared Elston. "Big business has come to the fore and the party must be able to operate the law permit stable government can be effected if vested interests try to pervert the functions of our public officials, and the capitalists of this country today are united in demanding a fair and equitable administration."

TOLERANCE FOR THE ATTITUDE OF MEN

Tolerance for the attitude of men of different political faith is characterized as a public life. "The men are inclined to be bitter or vituperative," Harding has suffered from his past classification. Without any particular reason, he has been termed a conservative. In other words, he means nothing. I do not doubt but that if Senator Harding and I should sit down at a table and discuss our views, we would find that we agree on many things and that the difference in this sense between the progressive and the conservative would be in name only."

CONVENTION WIDE OPEN

Roscoe Jones, who presided at the Chicago convention, gave his impressions and spoke most highly of the nominees. The consensus of opinion of those who were present at the Chicago gathering was that there had not in years been a more open and untrammelled convention. All the speakers pledged their enthusiastic support to the ticket.

Among those in attendance were the following:

Congressman J. Arthur Elston, State Director John T. McEwen, County Director E. F. Garrison, Senator Arthur H. Bredt, C. C. Chapin, Judge L. H. Weinmann, Charles E. Snook, H. S. Robinson, Wilbur S. Tupper, San Leandro, H. C. Capwell, Roscoe P. Jones, E. K. Strobridge, B. H. Pendleton, County Director David H. Oliphant, Jr., Joseph R. Knowland.

Women Fashion Party Planks; Men's Club Bars Mary Foy

By GEORGIA C. BORDWELL

The women of the Democratic party wrapped themselves in impenetrable silence yesterday for two hours while they formulated planks which they will present to the resolution committee for consideration.

The unwritten rule of no secret meetings and no caucusing, which the women have observed thus far, was suspended when Mrs. George Bass was closeted with the potential lawmakers.

It was later announced that among the measures which were informally discussed at the conference were the following:

The establishment of a department of education with a secretary in the cabinet.

Better provisions for the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor.

Ratification of the Suffrage Amendment.

Public Health and Sanitation.

As for prohibition and the league of nations—the subjects were not touched upon, according to Mrs. Mary Kinkaid, head of publicity for the Women's Bureau.

At this point the meeting was interrupted by the luncheon hour and as the better part of the afternoon was consumed by a tea in honor of Mrs. Annette Adams, newly appointed assistant attorney general of the United States, which nearly all of the Democratic women attended, other measures will be taken up for consideration some time before Monday.

STATE CLUB MEETS

Meanwhile the Women's State Democratic Club of California met for a business session, and Miss Mary Foy, associate committee woman for California, dropping in at the meeting, was pressed into making a talk.

Miss Foy, who is eminently practical, urged the women to concentrate themselves with the small duties which would fall to them during the coming campaign and election. To see that each precinct was carefully combed for Democratic voters and to watch the election booths.

Miss Foy said that if they had no money all they needed to beat the opposing forces was good workers and organization. After all, money could only pay for workers.

SEATING PLANS PUZZLE

At the first and only women members of the seating committee, Miss Foy, tells an amusing and highly diverting story of her experience, which ended last yesterday.

She says that when she was appointed upon this committee some three ago she looked upon it as an unimportant post which might prove interesting but of not much consequence, for these were 1912 seats for delegates and 1912 for alternates, so that when a danger of the convention hall conformed with the number of delegates to be seated, why there you would be.

But Miss Foy changed her mind, declared Elston. "Big business has come to the fore and the party must be able to operate the law permit stable government can be effected if vested interests try to pervert the functions of our public officials, and the capitalists of this country today are united in demanding a fair and equitable administration."

women have been painting banners for a week and down all day as near the entrance to the convention hall as they may get, to plead for help for Russia.

Organized by Miss Lucy Branham of New York, representative of the American Woman's Emergency committee, the pickets will bring to the attention of the Democratic party the resumption of trade with Russia.

The Republican party inserted a plank in its platform recommending the resumption of trade with nations with which we are not at war, and Miss Branham says that what includes Russia, she considers it not explicit enough.

Among the pickets will be Marguerite Tucker, Sara Bard Field, of San Francisco, Miss Helen Freeman of Berkeley and Miss Rita Freeman of the University of Chicago Settlement, and Miss Branham.

The convention is going to be picketed—but not by the militant suffragettes.

OWEN DECLARES WAR ON TAMMANY

Southern or later every newcomer finds his way to the state and Illinois headquarters. Here is where the heavy work is being done. It should be remembered that only a few of the delegates are here with instructions. The manner of their choosing and their lack of responsibility to any but party bosses mean that great crowds of them will be left like sheep into the fold.

Senator Owen, who is the avowed Chief Murphy, has declared open war on Tammany, which he calls the "invisible government." He was seen yesterday in earnest confab with William Randolph Hearst, a conversation which took place in a corner of the lobby and which attracted no little comment for its length and content.

"Human Fly" Falls As Thousands Watch

BY UNITED PRESS

ST. CATERINE, Ont., June 25.—Charles Hutchinson, known as the "human fly," fell seventy-five feet from the cornice of the Welland Hotel, when a knot at the end of a rope came undone during one of his stunts today. Two thousand spectators would not recover from his injuries. Hutchinson had climbed the face of the building and had started to climb the rope over the cornice. He slipped, purposely giving a "flying" note of real terror when he felt the knot, which would have stopped his

CONVENTIONALITIES

BEER AND WINE MEN WIRE BRYAN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—This convention needs a little "pep" and lots of "jazz," according to Miss Elizabeth Marbury, delegate from New York, who is a theatrical producer. "If the gentlemen who are running these presidential campaigns were in the theatrical business and used such ineffective methods they would be fired within 24 hours," said Miss Marbury. "My goodness, why doesn't some one stir things up?"

"Bass blue" may be one result of the Democratic National Convention, Mrs. George East, leader of the women, always effects a touch of blue in all her costumes, and other women are following her lead.

Former Ambassador James W. Gerard, a candidate for the presidency, when he arrived in San Francisco, "Not the same sort of dynamite as I brought back from Germany in the little black bag, but dynamite nevertheless," the former ambassador said.

Governor Alfred E. Smith of the New York delegation, exhibited his "wet" tendencies as soon as he set foot on San Francisco soil following his dusty transcontinental trip. The first thing he did was to holler: "I want a bath!"

For the first time in his career Willard Saulsbury, formerly Senator from Delaware, is out without his suits. But to make up for it, as it were, Saulsbury is carrying two canes.

Separated for 56 years, Judge P. S. Turner, delegate from Bremerton, Wash., and James A. Turner, his brother, of Berkeley, Cal., met in the lobby of the Palace Hotel today. The brothers became separated during the closing days of the Civil war.

A visiting New York delegate suspiciously backed away when he was accosted by a grinning "blind-brother" upon his arrival at the Ferry building today. But a moment later he became very effusive when the greater announced, "I'm the mayor of San Francisco."

Even the local cops were temporarily dispossessed to make way for

NEW ORLEANS, June 25.—Declaration that they would "not be in sympathy with any Democratic platform which ignores our demands for the Volstead act," is made in a telegram addressed by the Louisiana Liberty League last night to William J. Bryan and "the chairman and members of the platform committee of the Democratic National convention." The league, according to its president, Arsene Perillat, has more than fifteen thousand members in Louisiana.

Addressing Mr. Bryan, the league in its telegram said it wished to take issue with him on the matter of prohibition, and added:

"You and the school of thought you speak for violate the spirit of our country and the intent of our constitution every time you attempt to enforce in the form of summary laws your extreme impracticable and unwholesome views on the people of this country."

"We are glad the saloons have been closed, but in denying us the beverages with our meals and in our homes to which, during many generations, our families have been accustomed, your school of class control has done us a very great detriment."

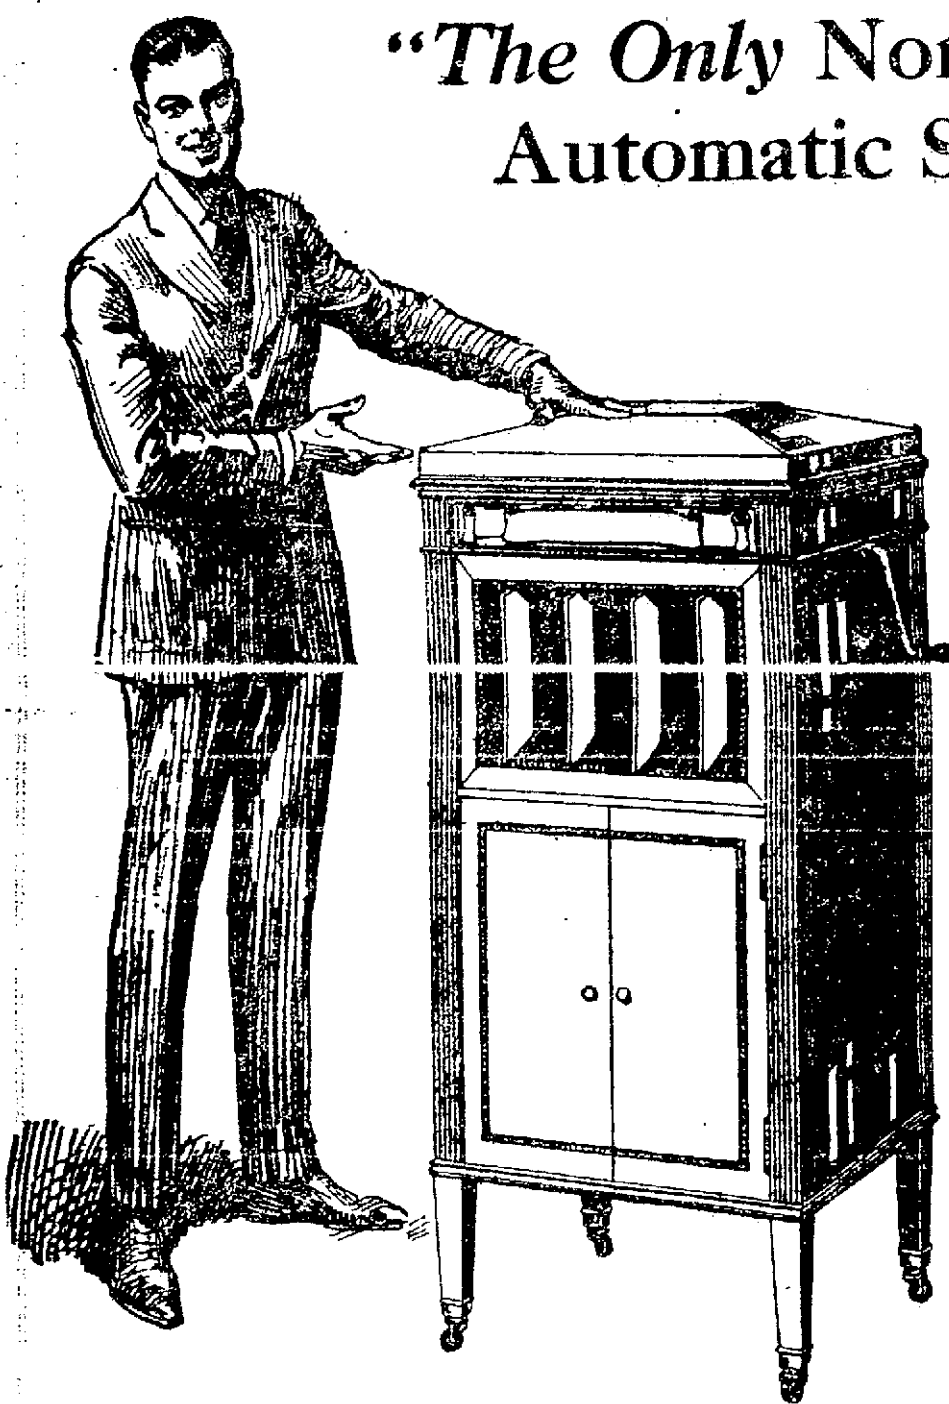

"We, as voters, will not be in sympathy with any Democratic platform which ignores our demands for the modification of the Volstead law. It is an undeniable fact that millions of once law-abiding citizens have become deliberate law violators and are now encouraging smugglers and moonshiners in the sale and distribution of harmful liquor."

"Modification restoring personal liberty in the importation, manufacture, purchase and use of wine and beer would soon put an end to this nation-wide practice of law violations."

Convention, doing today, when Mayor Ralph and Norman Mack of New York ran the ferry police out of their station while they conferred for a few moments.

HUNDREDS IN LOS ANGELES NOW TESTIFY

So many people throughout the United States and Canada have testified to having used Tanlac with such splendid results following influenza, grippe, operations, typhoid and pneumonia and other troubles that result in a run-down condition that it has become universally recognized as the most powerful reconstructive tonic of the present day.

In Los Angeles alone, hundreds have told in no uncertain terms of how Tanlac has built them up in weight and restored their strength and health after all other means had failed.

Another very striking instance in connection with this fact was the statement made a few days ago by Mrs. H. V. Bean, who resides at 1919 South Grand Avenue. Here is what she says:

"If there was ever a time in my life that I was in better health than I am now I don't know when it was, and it's all because of the splendid results I have gotten from Tanlac."

A year ago last September I had the influenza and it was so awfully weak, run-down and nervous. I had an extremely poor appetite and just simply couldn't force myself to eat enough to keep up my strength. My nerves were all unstrung and it was next to impossible for me to ever get a good night's rest. It was an effort for me to even get around the house for I felt dragged and completely worn-out from morning till night.

Several of my friends had tried Tanlac and they recommended it to me. I began taking it, too. In a few days I could tell it was helping me for my appetite returned and everything I ate seemed to give me strength and energy. My nerves quieted down and I began to sleep sound at night. I took only three bottles of Tanlac but today I am in perfect health and feel better than I did before I had the influenza.

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores.—Advertisement.

Shrine Trains Move Home; Chiefs Will Sail for Alaska

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—San Francisco will be the scene of the annual imperial session of the Shrine in 1922, John D. McGilvray, J. A. Ulrich, George Filmer and William Crocker announced today.

The imperial council does not at this session intend to vote on the time and place for its meeting in 1922, but from the assurances of the representatives of the lodges it is held safe to predict San Francisco will be the favored city.

Atlantic City was selected for the 1921 convention. No invitations were received from any other city. Charterers were granted to Hajen Temple, Greenville, S. C., and Karient, Waco, Tex. Three dispensations were granted: Al Kaly, Pueblo, Colo.; Nalash, Waco, Tex.; and Khiva, Amarillo, Tex. Sixteen applications for charters were presented.

Shrine yesterday was shipped at the shrine of roses and paid homage to Queen Claire (Mrs. Cameron Squires), who presided over Portland's rose festival. Seventy musical organizations participated in the massed band concert at the Multnomah Athletic club. Competitive patrol drills were held.

Five of Uncle Sam's best fighting ships, followed by a cruiser and a cloud of destroyers, sweeping through the Golden Gate and into San Francisco bay yesterday afternoon, lie at anchor there today. The flotilla was led by the superdreadnaught Mississippi. Following the Mississippi were the superdreadnaughts Idaho, Wyoming, Arkansas and New York. Astern the New York was the cruiser Birmingham. The battleships will remain in the harbor until July 6, for the Democratic convention and the Fourth of July celebration. Hundreds of persons thronged the piers yesterday afternoon to witness the entrance of the Pacific fleet vessels.

Henry' Keeps Her and His Audience Smiling

To look at Henry Trindle you wouldn't think there could be much of a play of which he was the hero. But before circumstances are through with Henry and his pretty, extravagant wife Polly, and all their friends, Henry develops into a perfectly good hero and the play, "Keep Her Smiling," into a happy comedy at the Liberty playhouse.

Edgar Franklin wrote the original story. John Hunter Booth dramatized it. Richard Walton Tully produced it and the audience last night enjoyed it.

Henry, which was Sidney Drew's last part on the stage, is ably played by David Miller. Isabel Withers is Polly. De Witt C. Jennings and 25 others give adequate support.

Following the present engagement, "Keep Her Smiling" will be closed for five weeks for renovation and redecoration and will reopen August 1 with "Charlotte Greenwood in 'Linger Longer Letty'."

BANKERS DENY RATE CLAIM OF SENATOR OWEN

Oakland bankers were in accord today in disagreeing with Senator Robert Owen of Oklahoma, who is credited with saying in an address Wednesday noon before the Oakland Ad club that the "majority of our banks realized as high as 100 percent on their investments."

Senator Owen is quoted as saying: "The Bank of England was organized in 1849 and its rate of interest of 4 percent has remained standard, while the majority of our banks have realized as high as 100 percent on their investments. The raising of rates of interest intimidates business men and retards the activities of the country. This action creates a false shortage of money."

Senator Owen is the author of the Federal Reserve Act.

President Calvin of the Central National Bank said:

"Banks are making no such profit. They are affected by the high cost of

PLANT REPAIRS MAY CUT SERVICE

Notice that interurban service on the Southern Pacific may be effected during the next few weeks in the Eastbay district has been given by the company in the following announcement:

"Emergency repairs of the generating plant in the Fruitvale power house make it necessary to reduce by a few cars the total number of cars operated in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley during the morning and evening rush hours."

"We therefore ask the patience of our patrons for two or three weeks. In the meantime we are buying all the power that can be made use of to meet the emergency."

The foregoing notice is issued under the signature of Superintendent T. R. Howlands.

Atlantic Battleships Finish Gun Practice

PORT MONROE, Va., June 25.—The battleship squadron of the Atlantic fleet has completed its big gun practice off the Virginia Capes and its various units are today speeding to their home ports.

Living in doing business and can't escape it. Salaries, rent, taxes, stationery—everything that contributes to banking expense has enormously increased within the war period.

While interest rates have advanced but a small fraction, then, too, business have had to load on the tremendous expense of assisting in financing the country's war securities.

Vice-President Campbell of the First National Bank, in denying that profits have been made, pointed out that English banks charge the depositors for the privilege of a checking account.

CALIFORNIANS TO ENTERTAIN WEST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—(United Press)—The needs of the great western states and of Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines will be discussed at a dinner which the California delegation will give to the delegates from the west to the Democratic convention Saturday evening. Gavin McNab explained today.

McNab reiterated his declaration that no effort will be made to line up campaign votes for any candidate.

Irrigation and reclamation questions, disposition of mineral and oil lands, navigation matters affecting Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands principally will be among the subjects discussed, McNab said.

McNab was noncommittal on the Japanese question. "It doesn't affect other western states as it does California," he said, "but I can't say whether the delegates will discuss it."

The delegates at the dinner will be from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines.

Pact Breach Action Would Divide $40,000

Alleging breach of contract, H. P. Kervin has filed suit against Edward S. Van Dyck for an equal division of net profits, said to amount to $40,000, from the earnings of mining properties in the Buena Vista mining district in Humboldt county, Nevada.

Kervin claims he and Van Dyck signed a written agreement on October 12, 1917, in which both agreed to share equally from all mining property obtained by them in the district, whether by purchase, lease or option. It is alleged that Van Dyck has broken this agreement in regard to properties developed by the Sunset Mining and Development Company and the Arizona Silver Mining Company.

'STATE NEWS'

PORTOLA, June 25.—Charles Johnson was instantly killed and two other miners severely injured in the Engles mine. The accident was due to their taking a shortcut through the mine at lunch time and climbing a 50-foot ladder. Johnson slipped from upper rungs and carried the men below him to the bottom.

William E. Reedy, hoistman, was dislocated at the Green Mountain mine at Crescent Mills. He was working upon some uninsulated wires without first turning off the power.

TRAIN KILLS WOMAN

SACRAMENTO, June 25.—Struck by the engine of the Overland Limited, while her husband stood helplessly a few feet from the tracks, Mrs. John Greenwood, aged 65, of this city, was instantly killed near Penryn, Placer county, late yesterday.

According to Greenwood, his wife stepped in front of the train to stop it so they could board it for Sacramento. Greenwood said he and his wife had been picking berries and had been on the train for a local bound for Sacramento.

SAWMILL MAN KILLED

MARYSVILLE, June 25.—Everett Hanson, 18 years of age, employed in a sawmill at Brownsville, was killed when a heavy log rolling from a pile of timber outside the mill crushed him to death. He leaves relatives in Fresno.

PEACH CROP 40,000 TONS

YUBA CITY, June 25.—Sutter county's peach crop this year will be about 40,000 tons, which means about $4,000,000 will be paid the growers this year, according to H. P. Stabler, county horticultural commissioner. He declares that within five years, at the present rate of planting, Sutter county will be exporting fully 50,000 tons of peaches a year.

BOY'S BODY FOUND

FRESNO, June 25.—Searching in the waters of the San Joaquin river near Herndon for the body of Alva Riemann, who was drowned while bathing yesterday, men found the unidentified body of a 14-year-old boy, who, authorities declare, must have been in the water for the last month. The body was taken in charge by R. C. Jay, coroner of Madera county, and the police departments of Fresno and Madera began a search to identify it.

It is believed the body may be that of Arman Kirkorian, a Fresno boy, who was drowned about a month ago. Search is being continued for the body of Alva Riemann.

SLAYER FOUND GUILTY

FRESNO, June 25.—On the first ballot and after being out for less than a quarter of an hour, a jury in Judge H. Z. Austin's court found Carlos Saenz guilty of first-degree murder last January of T. Shibuta, a Japanese merchant of Coalinga. The jurors recommended a life sentence to the penitentiary.

CITY SUES FOR $63,341

SACRAMENTO, June 25.—Damages amounting to $63,341.40 from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Central California Traction Company, the Sacramento Southern Railroad and the San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad are asked by the City of Sacramento in suits filed in the superior court by City Attorney Archibald Yell.

The suits are based on the failure of these companies to comply with the sprinkling ordinance adopted by the city commission on June 19, 1913. The constitutionality of the ordinance was upheld recently by the United States Supreme Court.

Other Professions Pay Teachers More

As typical of the condition which is forcing good teachers out of the Oakland schools into better paid businesses and professions are the cases of five men teachers who have left Oakland Technical High School in the last six months.

The five men teachers who resigned from the Technical High School staff are Guy Hudgins, Ralph Sisson, W. F. Drew, W. F. Ewing and F. W. Wetmore. Hudgins went to Heath & Co., publishers, for 50 per cent more than he was getting at Technical; Sisson went to the Standard Oil Company for 25 per cent more; Drew went into business for himself; Ewing went to Pasadena High School as principal for $1000 more than any Oakland principal receives and Wetmore doubled his salary by going to Judson Iron Works as foreman.

None of these men could afford to continue teaching in the Oakland schools at the maximum high school salary of $2160 with no prospect of an increase when the same training and ability would bring from 25 to 100 per cent more elsewhere.

The proportion of resignations of both men and women teachers in all the Oakland schools within the last six months has been equally great—and for the same reason. TEACHERS ARE PAID MORE ELSEWHERE THAN THEY ARE GIVEN IN THE OAKLAND SCHOOLS.

The tragedy of it all is that Oakland cannot secure the services of competent men and women to fill the places that have been vacated. Teaching yields such a poor financial return that young men and women have begun to refuse to enter the profession. And those that do come out of the normal schools are going to other cities in California because they can get better pay than they receive in Oakland.

Write to the City Council and Board of Supervisors TODAY and insist that Oakland teachers be paid "a professional wage for professional services"—enough money to keep the good teachers now employed and to secure competent new ones.

PURSE RECOVERED AFTER SIX YEARS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Six years ago a pickpocket jostled Mrs. A. M. Towne as she was passing Grace Cathedral in California street and robbed her of a rare gold mesh bag valued at that time at $300.
The police instituted a rigid search which was of no avail. Time passed and Mrs. Towne died. The search for the missing gold purse languished and then ceased altogether.
Yesterday a member of the pawnshop detail of the San Francisco police department came across the purse buried under some articles of considerably lesser value in the showcase of a Mission second-hand store.
According to the proprietor of the store a woman pawned the purse for $27. The purse has been turned over to Mrs. Clinton Warden, whose husband is an official of the First National Bank. Mrs. Towne was Mrs. Warden's mother.
In the meantime the police will interrogate the woman who pawned the purse, not because they believe she illegally became the owner of it, but because they want, if possible, to ascertain its history during the six years.

Ryan Will Appeal Exchange Expulsion
NEW YORK, June 25.—Expelled from the New York Stock Exchange, Allen A. Ryan, principal figure in the alleged Stutz Motor corner last March, announced he would carry his case to the courts and "stand or fall on the case as the public has it."
There was a flurry of excitement at the opening of the exchange when the governing committee, which announced from the floor a verdict of expulsion for "conduct inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade."
At first, Ryan was silent. Then he issued a brief statement, announcing in French that "we shall see what we shall see."

SCHOOL INSURANCE CONTRACT STUDIED

Provision for handling all insurance problems and placing practically all school insurance through a special agent, is made in a contract submitted to the Board of Education for adoption last night by Secretary Lloyd D. Barzee. Consideration of the contract will be made by the directors at next Monday's meeting of the board, and in the meantime the document will be turned over to the district attorney for scrutiny.

Under the terms of the contract the department will place the greater portion of its insurance through the agent in companies designated by him. The agent is to be recommended by the Insurance Exchange of Oakland, and the department will open an office in the city hall, one of the local banks to the credit of its representative for the payment of premiums.

The services of the agent will include practically a reorganization of the school department's insurance system, comprising a survey of all schools and new buildings, and recommendations as to a readjustment of the present schedules looking toward a reduction in rates, the preparation of new schedules, and the discovery of a method whereby the department can obtain more insurance without additional outlay.

Hibernians Will Hear Ex-Governor Dunne

Edward F. Dunne, former governor of Illinois, and delegate to the Democratic National Convention, will be the orator of the day at the annual reunion next Sunday at Shellmound Park of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. He will speak on the Irish question.

Samon de Valera, president of the Irish republic, and Frank P. Walsh, national president of the American Commission on Irish Independence, will also be present. A program of entertainment and sports, numbers and dancing will be presented. P. B. Mahoney, San Francisco president of the A. O. H., will act as chairman of the day. The committee includes J. C. O'Brien, M. M. Twomey, S. J. Malone, P. J. Mahoney, T. P. O'Donnell, John Donohue, M. J. Gilroy, Thomas McCarthy, James Whelan and Thomas H. O'Day.

Draymen Ask Permit to Increase Rates

An application for permission to increase their rates because of the recent fifty-cent a day wage advance granted the teamsters of the Eastbay cities has been filed with the State Railroad Commission by a number of draying companies operating between transbay cities.

The petitioning companies are: Santa Fe Express and Draying Company, Merchants' Express & Draying Company, American Transfer & Storage Company, People's Express Company, Western Express Company, Hull, Western Transfer & Storage Company, Austin Freight & Transportation Company, Williams Motor Express & Draying Company, United Transfer Company, Oakland Parcel Delivery and the Richmond Motor Express Company.

Two New School Buildings To Be Constructed by City

Two new school buildings and an open-air school gymnasium will be constructed, and a site for one of the new schools purchased, with the funds provided by the setting aside of a 5 cent tax levy by the city for school land purchases, under a schedule adopted by the board of education last night, fixing the sum necessary for the improvements designated at $79,000.

The schedule will be presented to the city council in amplification of the recent request made to the city commissioners by the school department for the maximum tax levy of 5 cents allowed under section 119 of the city charter for the purchase of school land for new buildings and additions. The construction involved is exclusive of that provided under the recent $79,000 bond issue.

$25,000 FOR ELEMENTARY. The $79,000 to be derived, if the 5-cent rate is granted, will be spent in the following way, under the plan adopted: Construction of a new elementary school building, on a site owned by the board of education, $25,000; purchase of a site in southeast Oakland, south of East Twelfth street between First and Thirteenth avenues, $15,000; construction of a new southeast Oakland elementary school on the site, $29,000; construction of an open-air gymnasium on the present Oakland high school site, $10,000.

During last night's session the board was advised of the action of the city council under asking for a complete school department budget showing the disposition of all funds derived by the department, before any action is taken by the council on the request of the board of education for a tax rate for the coming fiscal year providing $636,000 for elementary school teachers' salaries and increases, and for custodians' increases.

ACTION IS NOT TAKEN

While no action was taken on the council's resolution, which was not officially before the school body, informal comments by the directors indicated that it would be impossible to grant the council's request and that the city body was not considered to have jurisdiction over the school department's financial problems.

Secretary Lloyd D. Barzee was last night authorized to call for bids for the furnishing of light and power to the school department for the coming fiscal year, and for sheet metal materials for the Bay and Clausen schools, cabinet shop equipment for the Garfield and Prescott schools, alterations to the Prescott school and additions to the Lockwood school.

At the same time a resolution was adopted setting aside the sum of $2400 for the Prescott school improvements and $1000 for the Lockwood additions. It was announced that the plans for the work are now under a course of preparation by the construction department.

ROSENTHAL CASE CONTINUED WEEK

Samuel Rosenthal, Oakland merchant, accused of obtaining money from the Central National bank under false pretenses, lost the first round of his legal fight for freedom yesterday afternoon in Judge Mortimer Smith's police court.

The prosecution confined its endeavors to an effort to show that Rosenthal, in submitting a financial statement to the bank prior to obtaining a loan, had understated his debts by $5000. This showing, the prosecutor holds, legally would convict.

A. J. Mount, cashier, appeared as complaining witness. It was impossible to take the testimony of any of 24 witnesses, and by consent the examination was continued until July 2.

Witnesses who testified against Rosenthal beside Mount included representatives of wholesale grocery and produce firms in Oakland and San Francisco of whom the defendant was a customer before his business was settled by the board of trade.

AN OUTSIDER'S VIEW.

It appears from published statements that Mr. Walter Parker, general manager of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, recently made a tour of investigation of the Pacific Coast with the view of ascertaining the prospects of increasing trade opportunities for Mississippi Valley producers. As was to be expected, he looked over the harbor facilities of the several ports. His report is interesting, if not informing.

"San Francisco's harbor is not well equipped and the cost of handling is high," he says. "It has enjoyed a monopoly among Pacific ports and its present situation reflects that fact. Through the aid of triangular service to Japan it gets coffee from Central and South America and receives much Oriental commerce for distribution throughout the United States. But San Francisco is beginning to feel the severe pressure of the enterprising ports on the Pacific."

As to Los Angeles, Mr. Walker got the following conception:

"Los Angeles has a harbor with extensive possibilities. It has fruits and fruit staple cotton and may soon desire to sell automobile tires to the Mississippi Valley. Its territory can take from New Orleans coffee and European products transshipped and Mississippi Valley manufactures."

Those ports which the New Orleans man saw as exerting severe pressure on San Francisco are Portland and Seattle. Portland, he says, has begun to show real vision and has erected one terminal which reflects all the economies of ship-side storage in complete co-ordination with rail lines. This terminal is capable of highly economic service. Portland receives coffee by transshipment from San Francisco. It has canned fish to send to the Mississippi and could take coffee and import domestic manufactures from New Orleans.

"Seattle is the liveliest port on the Pacific. Its equipment is good, but it has no terminal so well equipped as Portland's new terminal. It controls the bulk of the Pacific Coast fishery commerce and lumber shipments. Oriental steamship service is destined to become better and better, and its European and Latin American service will not be general for a long time."

"In my opinion the day is not far distant when a coastwise line plying between New Orleans and the Pacific ports as far north as Seattle will offer many attractions."

These frank estimations by visiting business men who are specifically interested in the subject of maritime trade and terminal accommodations are potentially very useful. They are a light from the outside, however unpleasant. They ought to lead to careful self-inspection. The comparisons between San Francisco and Los Angeles may shock some persons, but there is a chance that benefit may follow.

Whether Mr. Walker was permitted to overlook Oakland harbor and its adequate and superior accommodations, or whether he inadvertently failed to mention it in his observations is not known. It is possible, however, that he unwittingly placed himself, during his visit, in the hands of some gentlemen on the other side of the bay.

WAR AND FALSE TEETH.

Among the bills which remained unsigned in the hands of the President when the last session of Congress adjourned were two of especial interest. One was a joint resolution repealing most of the war time laws and the other was an act appropriating money to pay Michael MacGarvey for a set of false teeth.

The joint resolution would have brought much earnestly desired relief to all the people of the United States. It would have abrogated the right of the federal government to seize private property upon the whim of a bureau official, the power of fixing profiteering prices for the southern sugar growers, or search and arrest without warrant, of censorship of the mails and many other prerogatives delegated to the executive authority for the more effective prosecution of the war against Germany. It would have gone a long way toward returning the country to a peace basis twenty months after the cessation of hostilities and the signing of an armistice.

The act for the pecuniary relief of Michael MacGarvey originated in a peculiar accident. MacGarvey was an employee in the Brooklyn navy yard. In the regular course of his duties his false teeth dropped out and were run over by a truck, after which they were not much use. "Mac" put in a claim for reimbursement but the auditor of the navy could not decide whether the teeth were personal property of trade tools and the worker had to appeal to Congress.

President Wilson refused to sign the joint resolution repealing war time legislation, and this important act died by pocket veto.

He signed the bill paying Michael MacGarvey for his false teeth.

While the great body of the American people must continue to suffer from the oppression and obstruction of war time legislation, they should not forget to be grateful for small executive favor. Michael MacGarvey is one of the people. He must not and by the gracious benignity of the occupant of the White House he shall not go toothless.

DR. HYSLOP.

Dr. James Hervey Hyslop is dead. He was to adapt the terms of his friends and associates, a famous psychologist and psychic and the author of several ponderous volumes on psychology and philosophy. To the skeptical world that has little faith in the "researches" into the realm of the supernatural which Dr. Hyslop sponsored, he was one of the most powerful aids of the ouija board rakers. It was men of such scientific rating as Dr. Hyslop and Sir Oliver Lodge who gave the ouija board manufacturers their start in life and made wrecks of many normal minds.

Dr. Hyslop will always be one of the unknown quantities in the world of science and letters. He was well educated, having studied at Leipzig and won a Ph. D. degree at Johns Hopkins university. In the early period of his academic career he taught philosophy and psychology. Then his health failed and he became interested in spiritualistic mediums and twenty years ago underwent a course of treatment for tuberculosis at Saranac Lake, New York. After that distressing experience he paid more attention to psychical experiments and investigations and increased his acquaintance with mediums.

He and Prof. William James, one time professor at Stanford University, were close friends and collaborators in psychological and psychical studies. When Prof. James died Dr. Hyslop announced his confident belief that he would receive communications from the spirit of his departed friend. Subsequently he claimed to be the recipient of authentic messages from the spirit of Prof. James—through two mediums, Mrs. Smead and Mrs. Chenoweth. The only proof ever submitted to the public, however, was the alleged text of the James' statement, and friends admitted that the heavy, cumbersome and involved paraphrasing seemed to come from the James they knew in the flesh. Dr. Hyslop was frank enough to admit that the aggregate of facts regarding the alleged spirit communication with Prof. James would disappoint the general public and probably would not be convincing.

Dr. Hyslop was secretary and director of the American Society of Psychical Research, and was highly regarded among the psychologists of this country and Europe. Sir Oliver Lodge recognized him to be the American leader in the field of psychical study. Only a few months ago he recommended to the Rockefeller Institute the establishment of a research laboratory for studying the supernatural and suggested among other odd paraphernalia cameras for taking pictures through walls and scales for weighing apparitions.

Yet if Dr. Hyslop ever gained any secrets which an active imagination, stimulated by a frail body, led him to seek he passed away without imparting them to that portion of the public that had relied upon him for authentic information.

Mr. Thomas W. Lamont of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. announced upon his return from the Orient that the new Chinese consortium, tentatively organized by a group of international bankers in Paris a year ago, is now a fact. This was made possible, he says, by the surrender by Japan of her claim that Manchuria and Mongolia should be excluded from the field of development expected to result from loans to China by the consortium syndicate of bankers. Mr. Lamont has had much experience in financial matters, but apparently little in Japanese official promises if he takes Japan assertions in this connection seriously.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Public Ledger cables from Geneva: "The careful investigations which I have been making here justify the estimate that from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 people are ready to leave Europe at a moment's notice if they are given the chance." Between the accuracy of such calculations as may be possible in Geneva, Switzerland, and the possibility of Europe giving so many of her people acceptable as immigrants in this country a chance to leave on a moment's notice, the seriousness of this problem of absorbing 6,000,000 new aliens at once is somewhat lightened.

Increase in farm land values during the war period reached the peak in Iowa, where the rise in market value between 1914 and 1920 was $121 an acre. For the entire State this means an increase in the value of farming land of nearly $4,000,000,000. This increase in capitalization has been charged up to the consumers of food stuffs. What has happened in Iowa has happened in only a slightly modified degree in every other State.

NOTES and COMMENT

Senator Owen of Oklahoma has made a considerable social and civic hit here, whatever advance he may have made toward the Democratic nomination. He seems to be an adept mixer at lunch and club functions, and to leave a pleasant impression upon those with whom he comes in social contact.

There is considerable joy in the faction with which Mr. Bryan is not popular over the defeat of Congressman Volstead in the Minnesota primaries, though it would seem to be without significance as to the matter of booze, as he was defeated by a clergyman who has been and is a lifelong prohibitionist.

The confident assertion that "no body would be hurt" in the San Francisco police court trials, the first of which terminated in the acquittal of Pete McDonough, is being justified.

The current is running in an adverse direction in Montana. Women everywhere else are striving to get into political life. But Jeanette Rankin of that State, the first and only woman elected to Congress, announces that she is through and will retire from politics.

The Calaveras Prospect corrects a slight exaggeration: "It appears that our account last week of the death of John Davey, formerly of Angels Camp, was slightly exaggerated. We obtained our information from a dispatch in a city paper, but it appears that it was another John Davey, who fitted our Davey so perfectly that we entertained no doubt as to its being the former Angels merchant. In a letter to the Prospect Mr. Davey denies most emphatically that he is dead."

Job from the Kansas City Star: "Senator Owen says that the San Francisco convention should not equivocate on the peace treaty, on the labor plank, or on prohibition. Maybe it shouldn't; but doesn't the Senator understand that this is a Democratic convention?"

The Boston judge who released 14 Bolsheviks awaiting deportation on the expressed ground that the Communist party to which they belonged "is not a party of force or violence," in effect took the position that until seditionists get so strong that they can overturn the country they do not become undesirable dwellers in our midst. It is not a reassuring way to look at it.

Tennessee may become the thirty-sixth State and thus win the honor of putting through the nineteenth amendment. President Wilson has signed a bill for that purpose, and the Governor has acquiesced. Probably a political move, though not one to be criticized or sneezed at.

The Chicago Post explains it: "The secret of the great overall movement is out. A New York reporter hit upon the bright idea, and, having a commercial instinct, such as New York seems to be quicken in the brains of even such impractical human beings as reporters, he carried the idea, first to a big overall concern. According to the story, he was given $10,000 for the idea and made head of the firm's publicity department."

Secretary Daniels is here on official business having to do with the navy. The fact that a National Democratic convention impends in San Francisco is merely coincident. He says so himself, and it would be difficult to bring evidence to the contrary that would stand in court. Coincidents are often surprising that way.

"Cox gets the bulk of the committed McAdoo votes." Their voters are the support coming from when the McAdoo boomers, who refuse to accept his word that he will not be a candidate, present his name before the convention?

Mr. Bryan informed them at Great Falls that he is too busy shaping planks for the party platform to think of running for President. Too much absorbed in running the works, to become the principal part of them. Some persons are not as unselfish as that.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The acquittal of Prinzschlager at Dempsey, while of no great moment, is no more than might have been expected. The principal evidence against him emanated from an unsavory source and could not be considered as worthy of deep consideration. Dempsey was not more guilty of slacking than many others, but because of his prominence in a certain stratum of society he at once assumed a position of unnatural national importance.—Stockton Record.

Delivery has been taken by the Walnut Creek Farm Center of a La France fire engine which is to be used for the fighting of fires in that section of the county in the future. The machine was purchased with funds raised through subscription of the members of the organization. The cost of the apparatus was about $1600.—Martinez Gazette.

Bids for 450,000 pounds of kapok have been received by the board of sales, appraisal and survey at the navy yard and will be forwarded to Washington. Kapok is a silk floss used for mattresses, pillows, life preservers and upholstery. The bids ranged from 17 cents to 22 cents per pound.—Vallejo Chronicle.

The navy yard is in need of at least 1000 laborers. Skilled mechanics are in demand by the different yard divisions and with a large number of men preparing to go to the lower bay shipyards, now that the strike has been called off, conditions will be even worse after the 1st of July. Rumors are current that skilled mechanics are to receive a raise of a dollar a day after the 1st of July.—Vallejo News.

FULL PRESIDENTIAL STATURE

National conventions, wearied with the strife over the first place, are apt to be somewhat careless in their selection for the second, but in California the Chicago convention has selected a man for vice president of full presidential stature, who would worthily fill the higher place should fate ever devolve that responsibility upon him.—Philadelphia Press.

One fact, however, that must be taken into account is that severe cold bordering on freezing will slow up living activity even though sunlight is present in all its glory. This is observable everywhere and cannot be disputed.

Midsummer, therefore, adds both warmth and sunlight, and all glory to old Sol, who vouchsafes health, strength and action to man, animal and plant.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Sunlight More Important Than Warmth or Cold to You

By Dr. LEONARD K. HINSBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

Experiments by such biologists as Prof. S. C. Mast of Johns Hopkins University, reported in his book, "The Behavior in Light of the Lower Organisms," as well as the pioneer researches of Pasteur, Trudeau and other bacteriologists, show that sunlight destroys the virus and microbes of decay and disease and further the growth, health and repair of all creatures.

"Greenhouse experts," says the Department of Agriculture, "prove that the flowering and fruiting period of practically any plant can be made to take place at any time of year by darkening the greenhouse in the morning and evening if the day is too long, or by lengthening the day by artificial light if the day is too short."

"Spring flowers and spring crops happen to be spring flowers and spring crops because the days at the season of their flowering and fruiting have the proper number of hours of daylight."

In the end it may be found, according to W. W. Garner and H. Allard, scientists in the bureau of plant industry, who conducted the experiments, that the animal also is unable of responding to the stimulus of certain day lengths. They believe that the migration of birds may be an illustration, on the ground that direct response to such a stimulus would be more in line with modern biological teachings than theories which assume that birds "go south" as a matter of instinct. Indeed, Prof. Mast's work seems to show this.

It is now known that too little "sleep," too many hours of daylight, would prevent many plants from ever flowering and fruiting.

Living things will not reproduce except when exposed to a favorable length of day, although too much daylight for flowering and fruiting might stimulate profuse growth. A length of day favorable to reproduction and growth results in the "ever-bearing" type of fruits.

By means of darkness the scientists shortened or lengthened the life cycle of plants and forced some of them to complete two cycles in one season. Violets, which naturally bloom only during the comparatively short days of spring, when covered with light-proof boxes for a time, were made to bloom again during the summer. Biloxi soy beans exposed to the light for only five hours a day flowered nearly three months earlier than plants left in the light all day, but attained only about one-eighth the height.

The length of the day proved to be the most potent factor in determining the relative proportions between the vegetative and fruiting parts of many crop plants. Indeed, fruiting may be completely suppressed by a day too long or too short. This new principle undoubtedly explains the erratic behavior which has been observed with many crops when they are shifted to different latitudes.

What does all this go to prove? Namely, that health and vitality, growth and strength, repair and action are probably more dependent upon the radiations and particles, chemical effects and actinic rays of sunlight, rather than the heat of the sun.

One fact, however, that must be taken into account is that severe cold bordering on freezing will slow up living activity even though sunlight is present in all its glory. This is observable everywhere and cannot be disputed.

Midsummer, therefore, adds both warmth and sunlight, and all glory to old Sol, who vouchsafes health, strength and action to man, animal and plant.

'TAKE POWER OF R. R. COMMISSION AWAY,' BARTLETT

BERKELEY, June 25.—That steps will be taken by the city of Berkeley in behalf of municipalities throughout the state to curb the power of the Railroad Commission is the answer of Mayor Louis Bartlett and City Attorney Frank G. Cornish to the decision of the state supreme court that Berkeley must pay a total of $47,000 for hydrant service to the Eastbay Water Co.

That the sum set by the Railroad Commission as the annual charge for fire protection service is almost exactly 10 per cent of the total amount of money raised in the $1 limit tax and the payment of such a sum would practically cripple the city was set forth in a protest by Mayor Bartlett.

"The Supreme Court has said that the Railroad Commission has been given the power to do this thing," says the mayor. "It is up to the people, through the legislature, to take that power away."

"The people of California from one end to the other are aroused over the recent actions of the commission. Last October at a meeting of the League of California Municipalities at Riverside, a resolution was unanimously adopted, in this sense, and during the past year, one city after another has suffered from this cause."

"Municipal ownership has been given a big boost by the decision of the supreme court confirming the hydrant rate imposed by the Railroad Commission," said City Attorney Cornish.

"No city with a tax limit so low that the bare earning expenses are covered by the income derived therefrom can tolerate the arbitrary interference of the railroad commission or any other commission with its local affairs. If the railroad commission has the power to do this, the power will have to be taken away or we will have to take over the public utilities that can through such orders as the stand-by charge, deplete the public treasury and the funds necessary for carrying on the government."

Death of Mrs. Trysacc Was Due to Drowning

ALAMEDA, June 25.—The last rites for Mrs. Juliette Trysacc, 2140 San Antonio avenue, who met her death Wednesday evening when she was attacked by a fainting spell when swimming off the Alameda bay shore, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will follow at St. Mary's cemetery.

Woman Reports Loss of Pearls and Money

ALAMEDA, June 25.—The loss of a purse, containing pearl earrings, a pearl and diamond bracelet and $11 worth of dance tickets last Sunday at Neptune Beach was reported today by Miss M. E. Sepulveda, 2836 Summit street, Oakland, to the Alameda police department.

BOY STIRS HOME BY THEATER NAP

ALAMEDA, June 25.—Bertram Moore, 12 years old, sitting in the balcony of an Alameda moving picture house, saw a villain chasing a beautiful young girl. Then something happened which caused a delay in the picture and Bertram, his head reposing on his arm, detailed himself to save the girl. After a long chase through marshes, over houses and finally right into the darkest of night young Moore woke to find himself yet in the theater. Every one else had gone and the place was looked tighter than a jam closet. In the meantime, Mrs. Amelia Moore, 1345 High street, missed her son as soon as the performance was over. A frantic search up and down the street in front of the theater failed to reveal any trace of him. Mrs. Moore remembered him saying something about going up in the balcony, so she found the proprietor of the playhouse and had him open the door. An all-day picnic which he attended is taken to explain Bertram's desire for sleep.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

Best Dean popped her head in at the office door, saw that I was alone, came into the room and shut the door behind her.
"She's gone to the village."
"When will she be back?"
"I don't know. She may not return at all. There's nothing for her to do."
"I'll bet a cookie I know where she's gone." Miss Dean put her hands upon the rather high desk, leaped lightly to the top of it, and began swinging her feet. She evidently was in a good mood, and I wished her anywhere else.
"What are you doing here?" I asked, trying to turn the conversation from Alice Holcombe. I thought you had left with the rest of them as soon as you reported this afternoon."
"Oh, I'm trying to get in the class with Winsey," she said easily. "She didn't leave until just a few minutes ago. That's the reason I proceeded cautiously until I saw you were alone. I thought perhaps she was skinning and cutting you up, and far be it from me to interfere with a lady's little diversions."
"Then you're really being working?" I tried to speak banteringly, but failed miserably.
"Possibly. Got everything cleared up for a week. And let me tell you something—don't look for little Bessie in the morning, 'cause she's going to be sound asleep in her little bed. Oh, yes! I know the orders that old stuffed owl left today, and anybody can obey them who wants to. But for me, 'dearie, not for me! You can send in a written report if you like on my absence, but they won't fire me for oversleeping, and I should worry if they do."

"I shall file no report unless one is asked for," I replied a bit stiffly, "and as far as I am concerned the entire staff may sleep the whole two days away."
"Don't fool yourself. Day after tomorrow we'll all have to be in evidence at that funeral with teary eyes and black bands on our sleeves. That's one reason why I'm going to get a good sleep tomorrow. I'll need it. If there's one thing more than another that I can't stand it's a funeral, and especially one like this will be."
I opened my lips to say that under no circumstances would I attend the funeral of Miss Stockbridge, and to express my opinion upon the bad taste of making it other than a strictly private affair, but an instant's second thought closed them again. Not to Bess Dean could I utter any confidence. I might as well state it upon the postoffice bulletin board.
"Oh, you can keep it to yourself!" Miss Dean tossed her head offensively.
"What?" I asked unguardedly.
"Whatever you opened your mouth to say just now. But never mind that. Let me tell you something that you can't deny. Alice has gone to the coroner's inquest as a witness, and I know it."

"If you know it, why question me?" I asked with a non-committal air.

"Just for the fun of seeing you squirm," she retorted with a malicious little laugh. "I always did enjoy seeing little goats meandering around the lawn, and your small nanny has certainly slipped its tether about now. Ta-ta. Keep your secrets, 'dearie, but don't think you fool little Bessie, for you don't. You'll have to get up earlier in the morning than you ever did to pull the wool over this child's eyes."
She slipped from the desk with careless grace, swept me a mocking bow that, after all, had no ill nature in it, and danced out of the room. I heard her humming a little tune as she went down the corridor, heard it again as she came back from her room and left the building. I stood idly at the window and watched her lithe figure tripping down the path, as if she were the spirit of carelessness, happy youth itself, and for suddenly old and careworn as I watched her. I stood at the same window a number of times in the next hour, for an uncontrollable restlessness had seized me. I felt as if I could not stand the interval of waiting until Alice Holcombe should return. Upon my sixth or seventh trip I saw a taxicab being driven rapidly up the curving, private road leading to the school. As it drew up in front of the door I recognized in the driver a boy of whom Alice Holcombe had spoken as a former favorite pupil of hers. The lad got down from his seat, threw open the door, and then I saw him give a distinct start and thrust his head into the taxicab. The next instant he had withdrawn it and cast a frantic look toward the school building. I leaned from the window, which was only on the second story, and called down softly: "What is the matter?"

"Oh, lady, please come down here quick!" he implored. "Miss Holcombe's dead or fainted or something."

H. W. Estudillo, 3427 Beaumont street, reported that when he returned home last night he was confronted by a burglar who threatened her with a gun. Frightened by Estudillo, the intruder dropped the sack and escaped. Mrs. Estudillo and her daughter had heard the burglar and were found in a bedroom in a bedroom. Burglars entered the home of G. Penzotti, 1609 Fourth hill boulevard, and secured among other things, a dozen boxes of choice cigars and a large amount of candy. The total loss was given to the police as $263.
H. E. Holdsworth, 1715 Forty-eighth avenue, reported his house was entered and family clothing and jewelry stolen.
C. Saunders, 1809 Alameda street, when he returned home last night saw two shadowy figures under a window at the side of his home, and as he tiptoed up the walk he heard the window creak and the lock snap as the burglars began to pry on the "jimmy." Saunders shouted and they fled.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will ruin your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

HOOVER SLATED FOR BIG CABINET JOB, IS REPORT

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Despite efforts of Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee, to discourage all speculation regarding cabinet selections, the name of Herbert Hoover, as a possible choice for secretary of state, was circulating here today.

The Hoover talk started when he took breakfast at Harding's house immediately upon the return of the nominee to Washington. Harding expressed himself as highly pleased over his conference with Hoover.

RESPECTED BY HARDING
Harding is known to hold Hoover's ability in high regard. Other factors making Hoover a logical choice are his thorough acquaintance with European affairs, the high esteem in which he is held abroad because of his food relief efforts and the confidence Hoover is reported to have in international banker circles.

It is being made more difficult every day for Harding to adhere to his determination not to discuss public questions publicly until delivery of his acceptance speech July 22.

Insistent requests meet him today for statements regarding the suffrage question and the criticism of the suffrage leaders that he would not take affirmative action in helping him secure ratification of the suffrage amendment.

The Senator is firm in his determination not to "trespass on the rights of state executives" by asking that they shall take some action which they are unwilling or not prepared to take. He does not think it right that this should be demanded of him.

His office today gave out the following letter from Eleanor M. Pringle, vice-president of the first suffrage party, Marion county, Ohio:

"Pioneer suffragists of Marion county resent attitude of militant suffragists toward Senator Harding. They believe it to be detrimental to suffrage and unfair to Senator Harding. In 1912 Senator Harding gave columns of his paper freely to interviews and editorial by suffrage workers. He introduced prominent suffrage speakers at meetings and has always been fair and honest in his attitude as we believe him to be today."

Through article ten and some references to it the league covenant is to a degree a military alliance. Without this power it might not perhaps be as immediate in its effectiveness against some international crook but I am certain that no country can continue long its wayward action against such moral and economic disapproval of the whole of civilization.

Hoover declared that a nation would look with suspicion upon a league that called upon it to sacrifice human life; that the league council was hesitating at the present moment to curb aggressiveness in various parts of the world because of the knowledge that in the present single soldier was to be furnished by a nation aside from those with material interests at stake.

League of Nations
Is Favored by Taft

CHICAGO, June 23.—That the league of nations plank in the Republican platform means the ultimate acceptance of the league, with reservations, was the interpretation of the plank by former President Taft in a statement made by him today.

"When Republican victory comes in November the first thing to do will be to make peace, and that means to adopt the league with reservations," said Taft.

Concerning the San Francisco convention, Taft stated that he did not believe that the Democrats "will follow Edwards and adopt a war plank."

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. It costs little, but it does a lot, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant, harmless, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

League Pact Urged by Hoover Wants Big Nations to Disarm

NEW YORK, June 23.—(United Press.)—Earliest possible ratification of the German peace treaty, after elimination of article ten, and adherence to the league of nations, are the platform upon which the Republican party should stand in the presidential campaign, was urged by Herbert Hoover in a statement published by the New York Evening Post today.

Hoover advocated the league as "a product of the liberal class of the world," declaring that in such an organization there was no place for any threat of military force such as is implied in the present article ten.

Hoover urged the Republican party to take a definite stand for ratification of the treaty without article ten, in order to force the Democratic party into the position of defending "a practical military alliance—upon which their safety depends only further endanger the real value of the league."

ARTICLE X NOT WANTED.
Article ten which Hoover would eliminate, states that members of the league will undertake to preserve the territorial integrity of member nations.

Hoover said there was nothing in the philosophy of article ten constituting a binding obligation, but declared "there is an implication that a part has generally come to be regarded as the criterion of a strong moral responsibility." He said the real cause of dissension regarding the league was whether the United States should commit itself to guarantee the territorial integrity of foreign states and to use its military resources to carry out the league's decisions. This, he said, was the fundamental question around which the forthcoming election would be fought.

FAVORS COVENANT.
"The essential things about the league covenant that commend it to me," he said, "are first, its recognition that wars have their springs chiefly in misunderstandings and its provision for an organization designed to minimize occasions for dissension by continuous common counsel, and second, its creation of facilities for conveying of any treaty the force of public opinion of the world, the desirability of organizing these activities by international co-operation is supported by both our political parties."

Through article ten and some references to it the league covenant is to a degree a military alliance. Without this power it might not perhaps be as immediate in its effectiveness against some international crook but I am certain that no country can continue long its wayward action against such moral and economic disapproval of the whole of civilization.

EASTBAY POLICE SPREAD NET FOR GIRL'S ASSAILANT

Armed with an accurate description of a man who has terrorized several children during the present week and who upon one occasion boldly entered a house and attempted an assault upon a school girl, two police are today making an intensive search of the entire Eastbay district in an effort to run the man down.

Descriptions have been obtained by the police from different sources, and in each case the descriptions tally. The man has made his appearance in different parts of the city and lurks near schools at the time the children go home.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Charles Baldwin, 507 Fort-ninth street, reported to the police that the man had entered her home and attempted an assault upon her daughter. The girl screamed and the man ran away as neighbors rushed into the house.

He is described as being 45 years old, ruddy faced, light haired and having a complete set of gold teeth. He is dressed in gray with a yellow check cap and tan shoes.

Mrs. George C. Jones, 5818 Ayala street, also reported the conduct of the man to the police this morning.

FORMER SOLDIERS PICKNICKED
Residents of Thirty-second street, between Market and West, members of "Our Heroes" social club, held a picnic last Sunday in Niles canyon. The honored guests were the "boys" of that district who served in the war.

to Give Welcome
of State Women

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—(United Press).—California flowers and California fruit for Democratic convention visitors will be one form of hospitality extended by the womenfolk of the state, according to Mrs. Charles L. Donohoe, Oakland, past president of the Women's State Democratic Club and delegate-at-large to the convention.

Plans for the distribution of flowers to all visiting delegates at the exposition auditorium when the convention opens next Monday morning were discussed by local Democratic hostesses today.

Baskets of fruit will be sent to all delegation headquarters, Mrs. Donohoe said.

Asked if the flowers would be given to women delegates only, Mrs. Donohoe said: "Why, certainly not; we're not going to distinguish between the men and women delegates. They will all be treated alike."

MOTHER KIDNAPS
DAUGHTER, CLAIM

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Hugh A. Ferguson, a clerk, residing at 2126 Geary street, appeared before Police Judge Morris Oppenheim today and obtained a warrant for the arrest of his former wife, Frances Ferguson, 31, on a charge of having kidnapped the couple's ten-year-old daughter, Beatrice.

Ferguson recently was granted a divorce and was given the custody of the daughter with the understanding his former wife was to see the girl at frequent intervals and was to have her for two weeks during each annual school vacation. Ferguson charges his wife a few days ago called at his house for the daughter, with the explanation she wished to take her to King City to visit relatives. Ferguson said he had gone to the premises occupied by his former wife at 1320 Natoma street and found every indication that she had sold all her belongings and departed. He said he has no knowledge of her present whereabouts.

HAYWARD WIFE
ATTEMPTS LIFE;
FEARS INSANITY

Mrs. Edna F. Teek, 47 years of age, wife of a Hayward rancher, is at the Emergency hospital today slowly recovering from an attempt at suicide by asphyxiation last night at the home of a friend in Oakland, where she was staying.

She was found by her friend, Mrs. G. A. Lewis, 599 Eleventh street, lying on the floor of Mrs. Lewis' guest room, where she was left last night apparently in a happy frame of mind. She was unconscious and in her mouth was the end of the disconnected tube of a gas stove. The gas was turned on. Under her head was a pillow.

TAKES ALL BLAME.
Addressed to "Allen, my boy," was a note found on the dressing table. Allen F. Teek, her son, is 27 years old, married and lives with his mother and father on their Hayward ranch while he is employed by H. and S. C. Berovich, a wholesale tobacco firm, at Eleventh and Clay streets.

The note reads:
"I think I am going crazy. Don't be harsh with your father. He is to blame. I alone am to blame for everything. He good and kind to him and — Mother." The last word before "mother" is an illegible scrawl which is thought to be "love."

WOMAN RECOVERING.
When Mrs. Lewis found her friend, she first notified the son and together they summoned an ambulance to remove Mrs. Teek to the hospital. It is said there she will recover.

She is still unable to make any statements as to her reason for at-

NIGHT GUN DUEL

A gun duel on the downtown streets followed intervention by Patrolman R. H. Gallup in a fight between Greeks at Eighth and Campbell streets last night. Gallup was fired on by one of the escaping men. He returned the fire. No one was hit. Two were arrested.

As Gallup ran up to the crowd around the fight he saw Gus Pinos fall, hit by the butt of a revolver, said to have been struck by Giaco Mouselmis.

Mouselmis and his brother, Samuel, fled. Gallup caught Giaco when shots were fired across the street. Pinos, Gallup rushed across and caught the man, Samuel.

Pinos, in the emergency hospital, has a possible fracture of the skull.
